"Everybody's doing the Luxembourg..."

With King of Luxembourg, the Woog Riots single series that started in 2020 will continue in 2022. There has never been a King of Luxembourg in history - but there has been a great band with that name. The King of Luxembourg of Woog Riots lives in a castle in the air and pays no taxes. Just like many international corporations do in their favourite tax havens. Woog Riots distribute their music in digital form via their platforms. Sometimes their records can also be bought there. Silvana Battisti and Marc Herbert themselves become part of this system just like the King of Luxembourg. The only recommendation left is to look out for alternatives such as Bandcamp.

"King of Luxembourg" was recorded by Woog Riots in off-shore investment style with a 38 degree summer feeling including self-programmed synth steel drums and one drop rhythm. As with the previous releases, the song was mixed and additionally produced with the help of Lolo Blümler and Jörn Elling Wuttke.

„A loving Dylanesque: Bob Dylan by Woog Riots.“ Byte.FM

„Awesome new single from Woog Riots!“ Ooberus Oblivious Blog about 'Good Scientist'

“This is excellent. Celebration of an artist and her polka dots.” Giddeon Coe about 'Yayoi Kusama', BBC6 Music

“Yaay they're back and celebrating Japan's most famous visual artist. Mark my words in the early 2040's all young bands will reference the Woogs in the same way that the TV Personalities are now adored.” Bottom of The Pops about 'Yayoi Kusama'
